2024 Art Palm Beach Tickets Go Live this Month and Welcoming Exhibiting Galleries!

We're very excited that tickets go live this month! And we look forward to welcoming exhibiting galleries Taubert Contemporary and Galleri Urbane to Art Palm Beach 2024. Read on...

GALLERY HIGHLIGHTS

Taubert Contemporary

We're delighted Berlin gallery Taubert Contemporary will be participating as an exhibitor at Art Palm Beach next year. Founded in Berlin in 2013 (known as Fiedler Taubert Contemporary from 2003 – 2012) the gallery focuses on abstract painting, photography and site-specific works and projects. Taubert Contemporary represents 18 national and international emerging and established artists and artist duos who specialize in working with space, color, form and material in a specific manner. The gallery invites national and international guest artists and presents international exchange exhibitions respectively.

Huseyin Sami: Plastic Horizons, Installation view.

The gallery's current exhibition, Huseyin Sami: Plastic Horizons, is on view through September 2, 2023. Based in Sydney, Australia, Sami works with the physicality of paint. His medium, subject and process is an ever-evolving thesis on the possibilities and limitations of household paint. Through incessant experimentation, Sami has developed an ingenious repertoire of techniques and activities predicated on dealing with the ontology of painting. Here's an exclusive video tour presented by director Thomas Taubert of the artist's current exhibition, Plastic Horizons:

Galleri Urbane

We look forward to welcoming Dallas-based Galleri Urbane as an exhibitor at Art Palm Beach 2024. Currently, the gallery is presenting the exhibition, Jessica Drenk: On Edge, through September 30. Inspired by her fascination with natural patterns, the artist lets nature suggest shapes and systems of order. The result is a delicate and encyclopedic attention to the vast possibilities of form. Using repurposed materials like junk mail, archival bookbinding tape, books and wax as her media, Denk's work is an exercise in shapeshifting. In her new Aggregate series – strata shot through with the colors of junk mail – the viewer is reminded of geological time contrasted with the momentary glimpse, as well as the time of human labor – the layering of time in her own craftsmanship, like the rocks and ridges forged in the crucible of the earth. Instinct suggests the surface is not what it seems. Opposites and extremes, the macro and the micro, naturing and denaturing come into play.

The point is to invite the viewer to reconsider. “Some things end up looking like a magnified version of something else,” said Drenk. “My goal is to take a material as far away from itself as possible while still retaining the ability to tell what it is.”

Welcoming the American Heart Association as Our 2024 Charity Beneficiary

Art Palm Beach is pleased to announce the American Heart Association (AHA) as our 2024 Charity Beneficiary. This year, we're proud to support the life-saving efforts of the American Heart Association's Life is Why™ campaign. From June 30, 2023 to February 18, 2024, the LA Art Show will donate 15 percent of the proceeds from every ticket to the American Heart Association's Life is Why™ campaign, with a maximum donation commitment of $45,000.

Donations through the Life is Why™ campaign – no matter what amount – help to:

- Fund research that can improve the health outcomes of heart and stroke patients
- Train more than 2.5 million high school students in CPR each year
- Support the work of local entrepreneurs and organizations working to improve health outcomes in under-resourced communities

The American Heart Association is dedicated to helping people live longer, healthier lives. For 100 years, the AHA has saved and improved lives, pioneered scientific discovery and advocated for healthy public policies in communities across the country.

Art Palm Beach is a proud supporter of the American Heart Association's Life is Why™ campaign
